The system will not be modified!

Forget what you know about teaching,
start with what you really know about learning!

We trust in the fact that everyone wants to learn. If we doubt this fact, we will sell them short.

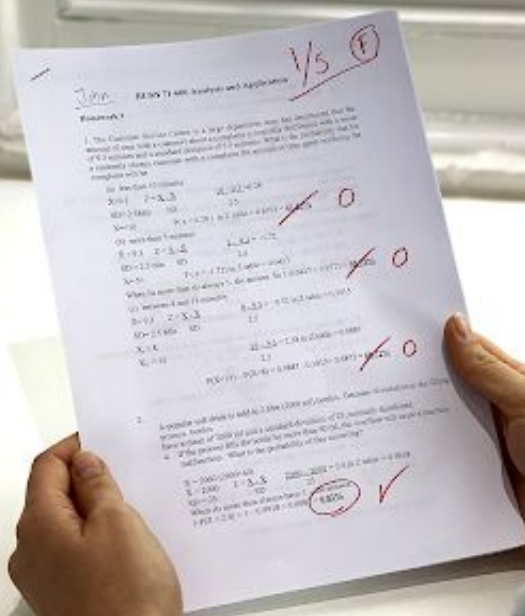

school should be a place where children can be happy, despite what is going on in the rest of their life!

We respectfully treat everybody unequally!

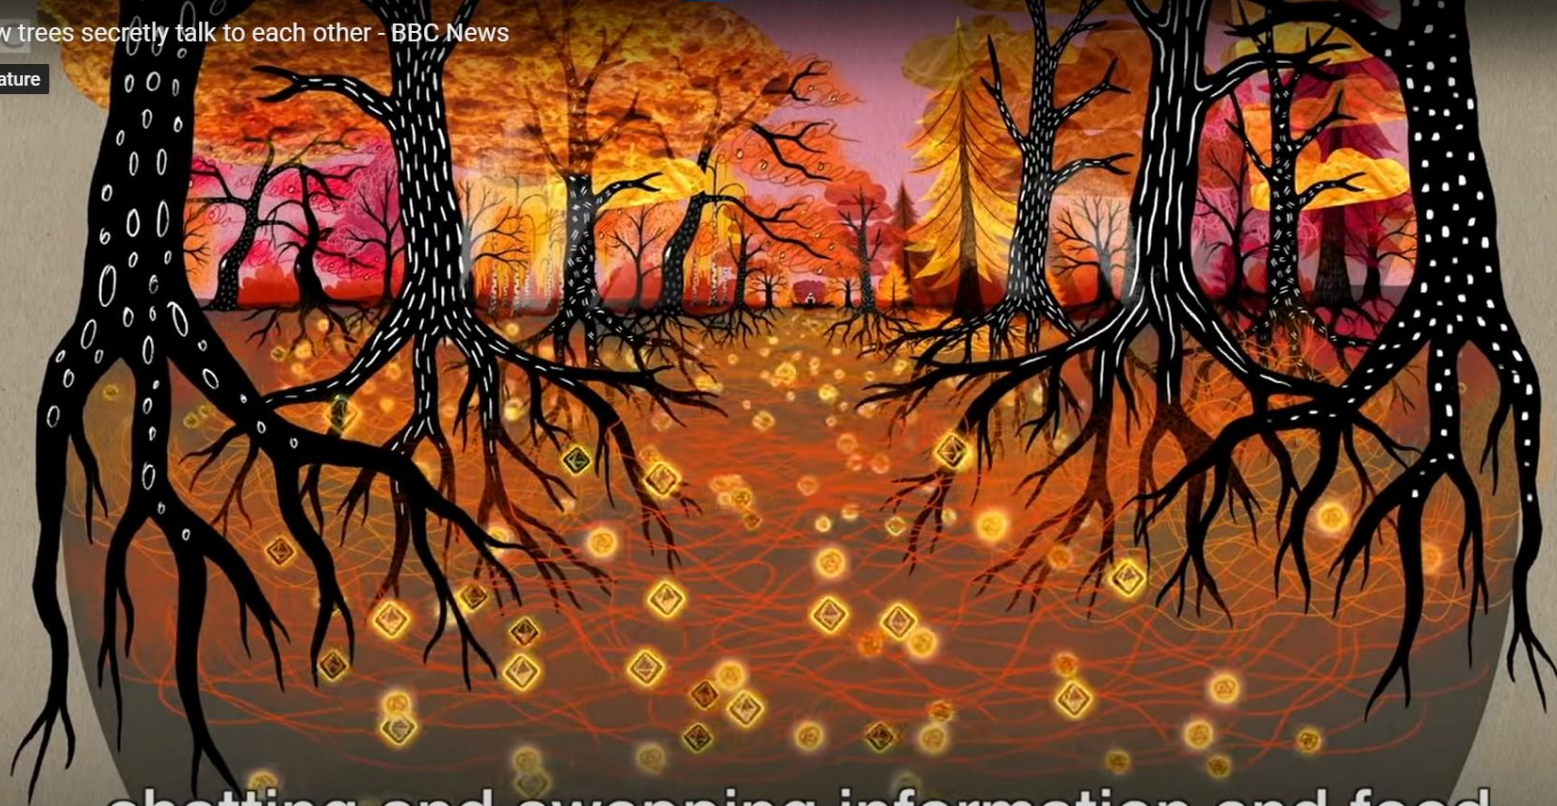

Forget what you know about teaching,
and how schools are organized.
Start with what you really know about learning!

chatting and swapping information and food
under your feet.
